

MRS. ARTHUR APPEGATE

She remembers, as in the case of her husband, she was on the beach with him the murder night. She too was positive four years ago it was September 14, 1922, and that in telling her story at that time to reporters and others she was certain, and still is, that it was the same night that she was told the murder had been committed.